About

Description

Julie is associate partner and attorney in our Employment Law team.

She specializes in a wide range of employment law areas, providing assistance to both Danish and international clients on HR-related challenges, including non-compete agreements, executive contracts, dismissals, disputes, due diligence in transactions, and outsourcing. Julie also has extensive experience in litigation and is qualified to appear before the Danish High Court.

Internationally, Julie has a strong international reach and is a popular advisor with international companies. She is one of our representatives in Lexwork, a leading international legal network where she collaborates with lawyers around all the world.

Clients often describe Julie as exceptionally professional, highly knowledgeable and precise in her advice. In addition, if you work with Julie, you will benefit from her dedication and natural ability to connect with both clients and colleagues.
